

A CALL TO MEN

National Association of Men and Women
Committed to Ending Violence Against Women

May 21st - 22nd, 2009

4th - National Conference

Men and Women Coming Together to STAND UP and SPEAK OUT!

To End Violence Against Women

Location:

*Theater at John Jay College of Criminal Justice
899 10th Ave, New York, New York*

A CALL TO MEN believes that ending violence against women is primarily the responsibility of men. Although historically it has been almost entirely women who have been at the forefront addressing this issue, we think it is essential that men play a primary role in the solution to end it. To do that, well-meaning men...men who, for the most part don't see themselves as part of the problem...need to get involved. We have invited a group of men and women who have pioneered the effort to engage men in addressing the issue of ending violence against women. Please join A CALL TO MEN and this exceptional group of national leaders for this important two day national conference.

(CEU, CASAC and CLE credits applied for)

This event will be an unprecedented gathering of men and women coming together for the purpose of increasing our knowledge while strategizing and organizing to end violence against women in our communities. We are excited and honored to have you join us in this collective effort to Stand Up and Speak Out to end domestic violence, sexual violence and all forms of violence and discrimination against women and girls.

New York City Screening of Groundbreaking Documentary (limited seating)

PRIVATE VIOLENCE...anything but private

A film By Kit Gruelle and Cynthia Hill

Using personal stories of survivors, abusers, advocates, police, district attorneys and judges, Private Violence offers a realistic and often unsettling portrait of this national dilemma. Woven throughout these stories of danger and survival, fatal indifference and courageous intervention, is the history of a social movement created over the past two hundred years.

Screening will take place during the lunch break on May 22nd
seating will be limited
