In general the parties will include carol singing, special Christmas games, visits from Santa Claus, dancing and entertainment.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that there will be a special Christmas Storytelling Program at the Children's Zoo.

The general public is invited to attend these Christmas programs which will be held Monday, December 23, 1963 through January 1, 1964. There will be two sessions a day. Saturday there will be only one session at 11 a.m. Sunday there are no sessions. Monday through Friday the special sessions will be held at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

The Children's Zoo is located north of the Central Park Zoo, may be reached by the 64th or 67th Street entrances on Fifth Avenue. Adults as well as children are admitted to the Children's Zoo and the admission is ten cents.
Commissioner Newbold Morris of the Department of Parks announces that all of the tickets for the special Christmas Week showings of the Marionette Theatre performances of "Cinderella" at the Hunter College Playhouse have been distributed. The requests for tickets were honored in the order of their receipt, and all of the eight scheduled showings will be presented to a capacity audience.

The Park Department Marionette Theatre will tour the public and parochial schools during the winter, and again perform in the Park playgrounds outdoors in the summer. It is hoped that the children who are now disappointed may enjoy one of these future performances.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that a presentation ceremony will be held at Park Department headquarters, the Arsenal, 64 Street and Fifth Avenue, at 10 A.M. on Tuesday, December 10, 1963.

In recognition of the outstanding "Pet Fair" conducted in The Borough of the Bronx last summer under the sponsorship of the Ralston Purina Company, Mr. Morris will present a plaque to Miss Aubrey A. Davis, Recreation Leader, under whose able direction and organization 80 youngsters exhibited pets at the Park Department playground at East 215th Street and Barnes Avenue. Over 300 spectators enjoyed watching the activity.

In addition a check for $100 is to be awarded to the playground to be deposited in the Park Recreational Fund. This will be used for the purpose of purchasing special play equipment to enhance the local playground program.

More than 200 New York State communities were eligible to compete in the program sponsored by the Ralston Purina Company. These pet shows were conducted by recreation departments and recreation leaders throughout the State.

A committee of judges headed by Dr. Richard Kraus, Professor of Recreation Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, selected the Bronx Division on the basis of "effectiveness, educational value, recreational value, and community participation in its pet fair program."

First awards for single pet fairs and for community-wide pet fairs went to the Patchogue, Long Island, Recreation Department and West Seneca New York Recreation Department respectively.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that the entrance gates at the Lehman Zoo for Children in Central Park have been draped in mourning in respect to the memory of the late Governor Herbert H. Lehman for a period of one month.

The Lehman Zoo for Children was the gracious gift of the late Governor and Mrs. Lehman in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The attendance of over 1,500,000 adults and children since the opening of this Zoo on September 28, 1961 indicates their appreciation of this wonderful educational and recreational facility which provides for the exhibition of gentle animals and birds; a regular feature is a story-telling hour for the school children.

Both Governor Lehman and his wife visited the area at every opportunity to watch the children enjoy themselves visiting the animals in their story-book homes.

The Department of Parks is honored to have a living memorial to so great a distinguished public-spirited citizen.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that applications are now available for the Municipal Lifeguard Course which is conducted each year to train men for the position of Lifeguard at New York City's municipal pools and beaches. Tuition is free.

The course consists of practical and theoretical instruction in lifeguard procedure and practice. Staff members of the Park Department will act as instructors.

Applicants must be male citizens of the United States, however, they are not required to be residents of New York City, who will have reached their 17th birthday on the day of appointment and can pass a non-competitive swimming test of 50 yards in 35 seconds, free style. The minimum height and weight requirements are 5'7" and 135 lbs., at time of registration. Applicants must furnish a medical certificate, stating that they are in good health. Candidates will not be considered eligible for appointment if they have reached their 35th birthday. Proof of date of birth must be submitted with application.

borough offices of the Department of Parks. Applications will be accepted by the register clerk at the East 54th Street Pool at 342 East 54th Street, Manhattan.

The highlight of the speed skating program is a special 10-mile race open to Senior men. This event, according to "Chick" Ciccarelli, Middle Atlantic Association official, has created an upsurge of interest in long-distance skating.

Presented for the first time in 1959 at the Flushing Meadow (16 lap to the mile) Rink, 40 skaters entered in the race which was won by Skippy Nelson in the time of 43.39. Ronnie Peters won the event in 1960 in the good time of 41.29, and the following year Bob Fisher clipped 10 seconds from the local record when he darted over the finish line in 41.19.

With the closing of the Flushing Rink in preparation for World's Fair activities, the event was moved to the 12 lap to the mile Brooklyn Wollman Rink. There, last year, under rainy skies before a crowd of 1,500 spectators, Richie Wurster of Saratoga Springs, N.Y. wrested the title from local speedsters with the lightning time of 35.55.

All of the previous winners will compete tomorrow, along with other such outstanding skaters as Bob Muller, Stanley Rose, Paul Kotz, and Ed Peters.

As an added attraction this year, seven Novice races have been added for members of the three Park Department Speed Skating Clubs. Boys and girls representing the Brooklyn and Manhattan Wollman Rinks and the still active Flushing Speed Skating Club will take part. Medals will be awarded for first, second, and third place, in addition to a handsome trophy to the team champion based on a 5-3-2-1 point score in each event.

Mr. Ciccarelli, President of the Brooklyn Wollman Middle Atlantic Skating Association Club will present the award, donated by the Brooklyn Club, to the winning coach.

Admission for spectators is free. The rink is located in Prospect Park, East Drive between Lincoln Road and Parkside Avenue. There is plenty of free parking.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that the 66th running of the National A.A.U. Cross-Country Championships will be run at Van Cortlandt Park, Broadway at 242nd Street, Bronx, on Saturday, November 30th at 2 P.M.

Heading the outstanding field of distance runners from the United States and Canada are Toronto's sensational 20 year old Bruce Kidd, Peter McArdle, 34 year old defending champion from New York City, Vic Zwolak, newly-crowned LC4A champion for the second year, and John J. Kelly, U.S. marathon king from the Boston A.A. One hundred and fifty competitors will face the starting line for the grueling 10,000 meter (6-1/2 miles) run.

A tightly contested battle for the team championship is anticipated, with the New York A.C., the East York Track Club of Toronto, the Los Angeles Track Club, the Boston A.A., and Toronto Olympic Club the chief contenders.

For the Van Cortlandt Park cross-country course this event climaxes a successful season where, since September, over fifty colleges, public, private and parochial high schools, and A.A.U. Meets were run. The LC4A Championships, held on November 18th, attracted one of the largest fields and the greatest turn out of spectators in the long history of the event.

It is estimated that more than 1,000 athletics use the hill and dale course daily for practice sessions.

Park Commissioner Newbold Morris announces that a record number of children have registered for the pre-school age classes at the Brownsville Recreation Center, 1555 Linden Boulevard, Brooklyn.

Because of the exceptionally large number of applicants a third Recreation Leader has been assigned to the program for the 4 and 5 year old youngsters from the community.

Classes meet from 10 A.M. to Noon, and from 1 P.M. to 3 P.M. daily, Mondays through Fridays with children going to either session dependent upon parental requests. A staff of three Recreation Leaders are assisted by college students who volunteer their services to take part in a community experience program as part of their education courses.

The Fall sessions started on October 7, 1963 and will conclude after 16 weeks on January 31, 1964. Classes are not held on legal holidays, just as their older brothers and sisters who attend regular school. The Spring term will commence on February 3, 1964 and finish on May 29, 1964, also a 16-week period. Spring vacation will occur during Easter week. Because of the large registration, children attend either the Fall term or Spring term, which means that 360 children will be served during the 1963-1964 period. The Brownsville...
Recreation Center is one of the many recreation facilities under the jurisdiction of the New York City Department of Parks. Children enjoy these services on payment of the standard $1.00 annual fee for center membership.

Registration for pre-school, for either term, takes place during the last week of August and first week of September each year. Before each term opens the parents are given an orientation on the program and conduct of the program.

The program consists of simple crafts, nursery rhymes, rhythmics, finger games, music and songs, story-telling, simple group games, and birthday and holiday celebrations and parties.

November 6, 1963.
STATEMENT BY NEWBOLD MORRIS, COMMISSIONER OF PARKS, AT DEPARTMENTAL HEARING BEFORE CITY PLANNING COMMISSION, NOVEMBER 6, 1963

The request for capital funds which I present today is for only a portion of a tremendous program for park development and improvement. It comprises very urgent and necessary park construction and reconstruction.

PARK ACQUISITION:

I would place the highest priority in the capital budget for land acquisition. The entire program I presented for inclusion in the State Bond Issue Program has not yet been supported by the necessary city agencies. The present capital budget included a total amount of city funds of $5,666,000 and state funds in the amount of $17,000,000, making a total for that program of $22,666,000 seventy-five per cent financed by state funds and twenty-five by city money. Included in my program, originally approved by the state but not yet by the city, are the following lands for proposed parks:

- Wolfe's Pond Park Addition, 93 acres, estimated cost $1,120,000
- Conference House Park Addition, 268 acres, estimated cost $3,530,000
- Land adjacent to the West Shore Expressway and Richmond Parkway, 364 acres, estimated cost $2,756,000

The above three areas, all located in Staten Island, are most desirable for park improvement. This infant borough is just commencing to grow. Every day, as the Verrazano Bridge nears completion, real estate activity is soaring. The proposed addition to Conference House Park is every bit as spectacular as so-called Breezy Point, the acquisition of which has been proposed by the city and agreed to by the state. It is equal in area and would cost less provided acquisition is expedited. It is important that this land in Staten Island be preserved for the recreation of generations to come, and there is still hope that this can be fulfilled. In my opinion, the price for Breezy Point, desirable as that area may be, should not deter us from an opportunity to acquire park lands for Staten Island. Another area in Staten Island which should be approved for acquisition is forty acres of a proposed park adjacent to Staten Island Community College.

Each proposal should be considered on its own merits and we must remember that if we do not reserve these lands for public use, they will be gobbled up all too soon for private development. This actually happened at Breezy Point.

There are five areas in the Borough of the Bronx which should be acquired for park purposes: The largest of these is the so-called Pelham Bay Park Addition, a strip of land under water to be developed for a beach and marina purposes, 406 acres, at Eastchester Bay, at a cost of $600,000. This would necessitate only 40 acres to be acquired, the balance being under state and city ownership. Also included would be an addition to St. Mary's Park, at an estimated cost of $1,000,000 for 2.5 acres.

There are also ten areas to be acquired in Brooklyn at an estimated cost of $1,609,700, seven areas in Queens at $1,953,900, and two small areas in Manhattan at $147,000.

A total of $14,745,600 should be provided for immediate park acquisition.
The Park Department requires $4,000,000 to meet the cost of this continuing program of rehabilitation, repaving in various parks, parkways, playgrounds, structures and related mechanical equipment. This project also includes the necessary work required in the swimming pools throughout the City. The work included in this project is of the utmost necessity in maintaining our existing facilities and preventing further deterioration.

Under Project P-127, the extensive program of constructing playgrounds adjacent to public schools for joint operation with the Board of Education continues with 38 playgrounds throughout the City. These will provide much needed recreational facilities for both school children and all age groups in the adjacent neighborhoods.

A great need exists for indoor recreational facilities for year-round use to supplement outdoor activities.

Recreation centers of individual design and special use are planned in:

1. Riverside Park - Manhattan (Adele R. Levy Memorial Playground)

2. New recreation center in the Chelsea area, Manhattan (replacing the existing 28 Street Gym and Pool)

3. New recreation center, Queens, New York Boulevard - 134 Avenue adjacent to proposed Junior High School 72

4. Addition to Owen Dolen Recreation Center, Bronx - Golden Age Group
5. Also, funds are requested for alteration of the old Ridgewood Felony Court House in Queens to become a recreation center for senior citizens as well as the youth of the community.

6. Construction funds are requested for the Ice-Skating Rink in Clove Lakes Park and for the Stadium in Great Kills Park, Richmond, which comprise the Staten Island War Memorial.

Other urgently needed park improvements included in our request are as follows:

1. Construction funds for the playground at Flatbush Avenue and Avenue H - portions of area to be constructed over a garage to be built by the Department of Public Works for the Traffic Department.

2. Construction funds for the second stage of the Parade Grounds, Brooklyn, will complete the rehabilitation of this very popular recreational facility.

A new project is included this year for "Safety Surfacing." This department has been experimenting with various surfacing materials and we hope to find a resilient material that will be both vandalproof and weatherproof. This year's request will continue to use various materials on an experimental basis.
Although each project cannot be mentioned separately at this time, the smaller projects are also vitally important in terms of the individual's need for recreation, both passive and active, throughout the entire year.

I strongly urge your review and approval of all of these projects. The City and all its citizens, young and old, will benefit in innumerable ways when these facilities are constructed. They will provide better opportunities for health and happiness and create an attractive environment for good friends and neighbors.
Park Commissioner Newbold Morris and New York City Youth Board Executive Director Arthur Rogers announce that league-leading sandlot football teams from Washington, D.C., and New York City will meet in a special football game at Downing Stadium on Monday, November 11, at 1:30 p.m.

According to Charles H. Starke, Director of Recreation for the Park Department, New York City will be represented by the "Knights," pace-setter of the Kyle Rote Metropolitan Youth Football Conference. The Kyle Rote League, formed in 1958, is one of the most active in the metropolitan area. League President Kenneth S. Knigen reports that 22 teams ranging in age from 9 through 18 are presently competing in four age divisions. The "Knights," with a squad of 36 boys whose ages range from 15 to 18 and who weigh from 160 to 180 pounds, are sponsored by the Cummings Brothers American Legion Post #1436 of Brooklyn.

Bobby Lane's "Junior Stonewall" Football Team of Washington, D.C. current Junior Division League leaders in the nation's Capitol will oppose the "Knights" in this inter-sectional clash.

Kyle Rote, former star with the New York Giants and present offensive coach will be on hand to kick out the first ball.

The winning team will receive a handsome trophy with four additional awards going to the two most valuable players of each team.

The game, to which admission is free, begins promptly at 1:30 p.m. Half time festivities will include an exhibition game between two outstanding teams from the 8 to 11 year old Midget Division of the Kyle Rote League, as the Red Hook "Rams" meet the Gerritsen "Hurricanes" in an abbreviated contest. Another half-time feature will be entertainment by American Legion marching bands.

Downing Stadium seats 21,000 and may be reached by auto via the Tri-Borough Bridge or by bus from 125th Street and Lexington Avenue.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces a change in the policy in the admission of adults to the Children's Zoo in Central Park.

Adults not escorting children may now visit this facility each day of the week instead of on Monday only.

This determination was made to provide more opportunity to many out-of-town visitors as well as City residents to see this attractive and interesting area.

The Children's Zoo, located just off Fifth Avenue at 65th Street, was a gift of Governor and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman to commemorate their 50th wedding anniversary. It is opened daily from 10 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. Admission to all is 10¢.

Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that the first Metropolitan Top-Spinning Championship will be held at the Mall, 72nd Street and the East Drive in Central Park, on Saturday, October 19th, beginning at 1 P.M. (In the event of rain, the contest will take place the next day, Sunday, October 20th, at 1 P.M.)

Beginning on Saturday, September 21st, in 400 playgrounds, more than 5,000 boys and girls, up to 16 years of age competed in local, district, and borough-wide play-offs as part of the nation-wide top-spinning eliminations being conducted by the Duncan Company. As the tournament has progressed, jacket emblems and handsome trophies have been awarded to successful competitors, along with the right to participate in the Mall finals. Invitations have been extended, also, to winners from other New York City, New Jersey, Nassau, and Westchester youth-serving agencies to join in the final play-offs to select the 1963 Top-Spinning Champion of Metropolitan New York.

In addition to large trophies for the top finalists will go an all-expense trip for the champion, and one parent, to famed Disneyland in California. The National Champion will receive a College Scholarship Grant.

Among the eight basic tricks to be performed by the finalists on Saturday are the "Big Scoop," "Sky Rocket," "Boomerang," and the "Man on the Flying Trapeze." Points are awarded for proficiency in performance, with the "Target Shoot" trick featured as the tie-breaker, if necessary.

The New York World's Fair of 1939-40 included among its many other attractions a spectacular five-acre horticultural exhibit, "Gardens on Parade." Due to the shortages of manpower and materials during World War II, the plantings and many other features of these gardens remained in Flushing Meadow Park, unused and almost forgotten by the public. At the close of the War, and with the active encouragement and cooperation of Park Commissioner Robert Moses, the Long Island Press, the late Borough President Maurice Fitzgerald and other public-spirited individuals and organizations, the Queens Botanical Garden Society was formed "to establish and maintain a botanical garden, park and arboretum in the County of Queens, for the collection, culture and scientific study of plants, flowers, shrubs and trees ... for the exhibition and carrying on of ornamental and decorative gardens and gardening and for the entertainment, recreation and education of the people." The Society was incorporated in 1946 and established its administrative headquarters in Queens Borough Hall where they have remained until today through the courtesy and interest of successive Borough Presidents. The original officers of the Society were: Charles G. Meyer, Sr., President; Otto H. Langhans, Chairman of the Board; Louis Gertz, Treasurer; and Elizabeth Fedden, Executive Secretary.

During the next two years the "Gardens on Parade" were restored and improved by the Department of Parks at the direction of Commissioner Moses and on June 5, 1948, they were opened to the public as the "Queens Botanical Garden" in Flushing Meadow Park. Occupied by the Society under revocable permit from the Park Department which was largely responsible for its maintenance, the Garden served a valuable recreational and educational function for both the adults and children of the borough. By 1960 the Park Department had enlarged, fenced, and improved 20 acres where the Queens Botanical Garden Society conducted children's gardening classes, rose and chrysanthemum festivals, in-training courses for teachers and many other activities, even though severely hampered by the lack of a commodious and modern headquarters building where its horticultural, educational and administrative affairs could be conducted efficiently.

With the development of plans for the New York World's Fair of 1964 and 1965 it soon became apparent that the Botanical Garden in Flushing Meadow Park would not only be bisected by the construction of the Van Wyck Expressway Extension but would also be required for the building of the Fair itself. Maintaining his interest in the welfare of the garden as President of the New York World's Fair Corporation, Mr. Moses proposed that a new Queens Botanical Garden be constructed in the section of Kissena Corridor Park that had been leased to the Fair Corporation between Main and Lawrence Streets from Dahlia to Elder Avenues, and Park Commissioner Newbold Morris gave his whole-hearted approval to the proposal.

The Queens Botanical Garden Society will maintain and operate the new Garden under an agreement with the City of New York and The New York World's Fair Corporation which will hold the property under lease until after the closing and demolition of the Fair. The area covered by the agreement comprises approximately 24 acres, of which the easterly third adjacent to Main Street has been intensively developed for display garden purposes. The remainder is being developed as an informally landscaped arboretum area. The firm of Clarke & Rapuano are the landscape architects for the development of the Queens Botanical Garden which is being paid for by the City as part of the program of permanent park improvements related to the Fair. The costs of design and supervision are being met by the Fair Corporation which is also to reimburse the City for its expenditures on construction.

In addition to the seasonal flower festivals and other activities conducted at the former garden in Flushing Meadow Park, the Society is planning an expanded program of lectures, demonstrations, exhibits and tours for the new Garden. Within the next few weeks, 5,000 rose bushes will be planted to form the nucleus of the Charles H. Perkins Memorial Rose Garden, expected to number 15,000 specimens upon completion. Other special features now being planned include a Heath Garden, a Fragrance Garden, an Aster Collection and a turf demonstration area.

Essential to the satisfactory conduct of all these activities and to the usefulness of the Garden itself, is the Horticultural Building being dedicated today. The cost of design of the structure by the architectural firm of Brodsky, Hopf & Adler was met by a very generous gift from Mrs. Albert D. Lasker. The World's Fair Corporation provided for the supervision of construction. The funds for construction amounting to approximately $176,000 were authorized by the Board of Estimate as a part of the program of permanent park improvements in connection with the World's Fair, and an additional $25,000 was also authorized under the same program for furnishings and equipment.

The Horticultural Building is located at Main Street and Dahlia Avenue, Flushing, easily accessible by public transportation, by car and by foot. It will from now on house the executive offices of the Queens Botanical Garden Society and many of its social, educational and recreational activities. It includes a library, assembly-lecture room, committee meeting room, a kitchen, locker and maintenance rooms, rest rooms and other conveniences, as well as offices for the Garden staff.

Conceived as a result of one New York World's Fair and given increased stature and improved facilities as a result of the 1964-1965 World's Fair, the Queens Botanical Garden Society today takes its place with the distinguished company of New York City's great quasi-public cultural institutions, its museums, zoological societies and other botanical gardens. Given the loyal and enthusiastic support of the people of Queens that it deserves, its future will be bright and its services to the Borough and the City invaluable and limitless.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that effective immediately, fires are banned in all park areas, particularly at the picnic groves, because of the potential fire hazard due to the excessive dry spell.

This ban will remain in effect until we have sufficient rainfalls to alleviate this dangerous condition.

Our picnic areas and parks will be open for public usage, however, no fires of any kind will be permitted in any area.

Patrons are urgently requested to extinguish lighted cigarettes and cigars before discarding them.

Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that Cinderella, star of the Department of Parks Marionette Theatre, is leaving for a ball in Detroit via Northwest-Orient Airline "Pumpkin Flight" No. 215-R out of Idlewild at 12 Noon on Friday, October 4, 1963.

Her new ballgown of 22K gold cloth and her precious jewels are too costly and delicate to permit her to be crated and shipped to Detroit. Instead, she will travel in her air chariot with the Park Puppeteers who are giving four performances of "Cinderella" at the Detroit Institute of Arts on October 5 and October 6 at the special invitation of the Honorable Jerome P. Cavanagh, Mayor of the City of Detroit.

If Cinderella loses her glass slipper in Detroit, we know that a Prince Charming from the west will undoubtedly return it.

Cinderella is not leaving the children of New York City permanently. She will return to perform for the city's school children and will also appear in special shows during Christmas week at the Hunter College Playhouse.

October 2, 1963.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that its popular, free, Square, Folk, and Round Dance program, under the guidance of Joe and Alice Nash, Park Department dance specialists, will be resumed on Wednesday, October 14th. After a highly successful outdoor season, dancing will once again get underway at various indoor Park Department Recreation Centers, in accordance with the following schedule:

ROUND DANCING -- TUESDAYS, 8:00 to 10:30 P.M., starting October 15, 1963 and continuing through June 11, 1964 at Mullaly Recreation Center, 164th Street and Jerome Avenue, Bronx, near the Yankee Stadium.

SQUARE AND FOLK DANCING -- THURSDAYS, 8:00 to 10:30 P.M., starting October 17, 1963 and continuing through June 20, 1964, at Lost Battalion Hall Recreation Center, 93-29 Queens Boulevard, Rego Park, Queens.

Two special GOLDEN AGE DANCE PROGRAMS are scheduled to start as follows:

MONDAY afternoons, 2:00 to 4:00 P.M, starting October 14, 1963 and continuing through June 17, 1964, at Owen Dolen Golden Age Center, East Tremont Avenue and Westchester Square, Bronx.

FRIDAY afternoons, 2:00 to 4:00 P.M., starting October 18, 1963 and continuing through March 27, 1964 at Jay Hood Wright Golden Age Center, 173rd Street and Fort Washington Avenue, Manhattan.

New Yorkers are urged to take advantage of this very popular dance series. This is a free recreation service offered by your New York City Department of Parks. All are welcome.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that roller skating in the Wollman Memorial Rink in Central Park, Manhattan, and in the Kate Wollman Memorial Rink in Prospect Park, Brooklyn will terminate at the close of business on Wednesday, October 2nd, 1963.

The necessary preparatory work will begin immediately to condition these facilities for ice skating, scheduled to start on Saturday, October 12th, 1963.
Commissioner Newbold Morris announces that the Department of Parks Marionette Theatre, at the invitation of the Honorable Jerome P. Cavanagh, Mayor of the City of Detroit, will present their production of "Cinderella" at the Detroit Institute of Arts on Saturday, October 5 and Sunday, October 6, giving two performances each day.

The Department of Parks Marionette Theatre was selected to participate in the cultural and recreational program of Detroit because it is considered to be one of the outstanding marionette repertory theatres in the country. All expenses involved in making this appearance will be defrayed by the City of Detroit.

Mrs. Anita P. Reagan, Supervisor of Recreation, will accompany the members of the Marionette Theatre as the representative of the Department of Parks. The Marionette Theatre personnel, consisting of Mr. Ascanio Spolidoro, director, Miss Dorothie Fisher, producer, Mr. Harold Zasler, production manager, and the twelve Park Puppeteers, will leave New York at noon on Friday, October 4, via Northwest Airline from Idlewild.

More than 5,000 pounds of equipment and 52 marionettes will be shipped by express to and from Detroit.

The Department of Parks Marionette Theatre has been in existence since 1939 when Robert Moses, then park commissioner, suggested that the Recreation Division form a puppet theatre to tour city playgrounds and give indoor performances for children. Four members of the recreation staff were selected to be trained in puppetry by Ascanio Spolidoro one of the foremost masters of the art in this country. In January of 1940, they undertook their first tour with a simplified version of "Jack and the Beanstalk". The response was so enthusiastic that an outdoor tour was scheduled for the following summer in order to accommodate larger audiences.

Each year since 1940, the presentations have been enhanced artistically, technically, and creatively. Today they are staged with all the care and attention given to Broadway productions. From a few simple puppets used in their early years, the Park Puppeteers have expanded their store of puppets to more than 300 intricate marionettes.
All of these have been constructed and costumed by the Park Puppeteers who also have designed, carved, cast or molded, and painted the vast quantity of props and scenery required for the productions. Special amplification and lighting systems have been devised for both the indoor and outdoor stages. A library of musical recordings and sound effects has been made or purchased for the many plays in the repertoire.

Departmental carpenters and electricians helped to design and construct the stages used for the indoor and outdoor performances.
The indoor stage has a proscenium opening of 12 feet and the overall dimensions are 14 feet high, 36 feet wide, and 20 feet deep. The outdoor stage is constructed on a 1-½ ton cab-over-engine truck chassis.

The Park Puppeteers make two tours each year, performing in schools, museums, and recreation centers during the Fall and Winter and in park areas during the Spring and Summer. About 500,000 children and their guardians see the performances each year.

Currently, their repertoire consists of ten plays, including adaptations of fairy tales (Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, Pinocchio, Hansel and Gretel, and Alice in Wonderland) and Happy the Humbug, an original script written especially for the Park Puppeteers.

The headquarters and workshop of the Park Puppeteers is the Swedish Cottage in Central Park. The cottage was part of Sweden’s educational exhibit at the 1876 Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. It was purchased at the close of the exposition by the City of New York for the sum of $1,500 and erected in 1877 at the present site adjacent to the Shakespeare Garden. Through the years the cottage was used for various purposes: outing space for crippled children, headquarters for the Park Department’s gardening program for children, headquarters for the Manhattan parks recreation division, and in 1947 it was turned over to the Park Puppeteers. Much special equipment has been installed in the Swedish Cottage to aid the Park Puppeteers in preparing their entertainments for children.

The traditions of the Marionette Theatre are foremost in the minds of the Park Puppeteers. They endeavor to bring to children cultural and educational entertainment on a professional level through the careful selection of script and music, the artistic use of lighting and unusual stage effects, and beautifully designed and costumed puppets.

For many children these marionette performances are their first “live theatre” experience. Through them they are made aware of their obligations as a theatre audience and they learn to be receptive to the many stimuli which the theatre in all its forms has to offer.

The Park Puppeteers perform educational services by demonstrating and lecturing to teachers, scout leaders, and visiting puppeteers and by scheduling “open house” days for children’s groups whenever their schedule permits. The visitors are shown how puppets are constructed, costumed, and wigged; how scenery and props are designed, built, and painted. They are then taken on a tour of the cottage which includes a demonstration of puppeteering on the rehearsal stage. Finally they are shown the various methods of constructing simple puppets.

The Department of Parks Marionette Theatre has a special place in the recreation program. Ever since its inception, parents, educators, and others concerned with child guidance and education have acclaimed it as exceptionally fine entertainment for children.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that entry blanks are available at all Park Department playgrounds for the 1963 "Punt, Pass and Kick" Contest. This nation-wide competition for boys from 7 through 11 years of age is being sponsored by Ford Motors in cooperation with the National Football League. Last year's competition attracted nearly 432,000 boys throughout the United States.

Boys in the metropolitan area will compete in 4 age groups at any of the 14 New York City Park Department fields selected. The contests will be held on Saturday, October 12th, at 11 A.M. In the event of rain the activity will take place the following Saturday, October 19th at 11 A.M.

Each boy will compete, on an individual basis, in three categories - punting, passing, and place-kicking. This will take place on specially marked fields. Judges will score one point for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, minus one point for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. A total of the points scored in all three categories will determine the final winner. No special footgear may be worn for the contest, only ordinary street shoes or sneakers. Football and kicking "tees" will be provided at each location.

Local prizes include National Football League warm-up jackets, specially constructed football helmets and autographed footballs.

Regional winners will be determined by a comparison of local first place winners' scores. All-expense trips to National Football League games with the winner's father, trophies and autographed footballs are some of the awards planned for regional and national winners.
Newbold Morris, Commissioner, announces that, for the second year, the New York City Department of Parks is offering a free service to employees of public and private youth-serving agencies in New York City.

It is always a pleasure for a Park Commissioner to talk to the people who play a key role in making the maximum use of parks possible. Large scale recreational facilities in this day and age generally are built near or around inland lakes and rivers, adjacent to the ocean, or, as is the case here in New York City, along the shores of tidal estuaries. Consequently, the problem of water pollution is a dominant factor in the economics and design of such parks and bathing areas.

Bill O'Leary tells me that the group here assembled represents the "cream of the crop" in the sanitary engineering profession in this part of the country and is made up of the key sanitary engineers of the City of New York and of the various firms of Consulting Engineers who are assisting the City in designing the water pollution control projects currently being planned and built.

I must confess that when I first succeeded Mr. Moses as Parks Commissioner I was not aware of the magnitude of problems involved in this program. However, it was not long before the facts of life were made known in this regard. The close inter-relation of parks and waste water pollution control are now quite clear to me and like my predecessor I preach the doctrine of clean waters whenever and wherever I can.

The Jamaica Bay program is really something to "crow about" assuming, of course, that we can ever get it completed. Here we have one of the finest recreational areas in the metropolitan area, if not in the country. The Bay is surrounded by a tributary population presently estimated at about 1,600,000 people, and ultimately over 2,000,000 people. Their waste water discharges into the Bay after treatment. I understand you call this basic treatment of dry weather flow. When it rains the sewerage systems, being a "hodge-podge" of combined sewers, sanitary sewers and storm sewers, some interconnected with sanitary sewers by overflow devices, discharge a mixture of raw sewerage and storm water into Thurston Basin, Bergen Basin, Spring Creek, Hendrix Canal and Paerdegat on the north shore, and along the Rockaway shore the discharges issue from practically all the existing sewer outlets from the Nassau line to Breezy Point. We also have continuous discharges of sewage in both dry and wet weather along Cross Bay Boulevard, particularly in the Broad Channel area.

The Greeley and Hansen Report on the Elimination of Marginal Pollution in Jamaica Bay, submitted in March of 1959, proposed a program of remedial measures which was estimated to cost some $40,000,000 based on an Engineering-News Index of 800. Also required, according to the report is the construction of storm and sanitary sewers around Hawtree Basin, Shellbank Basin, Broad Channel and Mill Basin. Separate storm drains are recommended where presently extensive areas, such as Jamaica, are presently drained by sanitary sewers only. Finally, the Rockaways must have a separate system of storm drains to permit the elimination of about 35 existing combined sewer outlets. The cost of the Rockaway storm sewers is now roughly estimated at about $20,000,000. This cost does not include certain large sewer projects, such as the $6,000,000 sewer from the old "Genesee Street Canal" to the Spring Creek Storm Water Plant nor the storm sewers in the Jamaica area.

These figures are given to me by the Director of Water of Water Pollution Control of Public Works, who has a penchant for tossing figures in the hundreds of millions around. I recollect that he always distresses the members of the City Planning Commission at the annual presentation of the Capital Budget when he gives the cost of the pollution control program. Now that the City's sewers are under his wing he is now talking in the billions.

Be that as it may, the question naturally arises as to the justification for the cost of maintaining Jamaica Bay and its shoreline free of waste water pollution. I cite Jamaica Bay because it is a precious heritage, a natural refuge for migratory birds. Bear in mind that we now have, or shortly will have, a section of Breezy Point added to our park preserves. We must also consider that Coney Island must be preserved and improved for the use of the City's population. Where else can our low and middle income people go on a hot summer day for recreation? On a per capita basis the capital cost of the whole Jamaica Bay program from the early 30's to final completion will probably not exceed $20 or per family say $65. Can you build a back yard swimming pool for this? You certainly can't fish in the back yard nor run a boat around. We in the Parks business think that the cost of preserving Jamaica Bay is cheap at twice the price. If the people have sufficient pride in their tide waters, they will agree to paying for this service, and bonds to finance it can be issued outside the debt limit.

Let me remind you that we in Parks are aware of and appreciate your efforts to clean up the waters around the Metropolitan area. I recollect that some years ago it was proposed to have another study made of the City's Plan for Sewage Disposal. I took a dim view of this and opposed it. We have had enough studies. What we need is action and I think we will get it.
NEWBOLD MORRIS, Commissioner of Parks, announces the opening of a battery of ten new tennis courts in Riverside Park at West 119th Street in Manhattan on Saturday, September 21, 1963 at 8 A.M.

The University will have use of the courts on weekdays only from October 1st to May 30th.

August 1, 1963
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that the work in connection with the paving of the parking field adjacent to the Kate Wollman Rink in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, will start on Thursday, August 1, 1963.

The parking field will be closed to the public while work is in progress.

It is expected that this contract will be completed by October.

July 31, 1963
Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that golfers at New York City's eleven municipal golf courses may file their entries for the 13th Annual Blind Bogey Tournament and Hole in One Contest which will be conducted by the Department of Parks under the sponsorship of the F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Company, beginning Sunday, August 25th. All regular patrons of municipal courses, who are 18 years of age or over, are eligible to compete. Entries must be filed on or before Friday, August 16th, at the course where contestant wishes to play. Registration will be limited to 400 at each course.

The Blind Bogey competition has proved popular with public links players because the duffer competes on an equal footing with the low scoring golfer, and because it offers contestants the rare privilege on public courses of reserved time for teeing off. Competition consists of 18 holes of medal play. Each golfer chooses his own handicap and at the close of competition, the player whose net score with his chosen handicap comes closes to the Blind Bogey is declared the winner. U.S.G.A. rules will govern all play.

Handsome prizes donated by the F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Company will be awarded at each course to winner of the Men's and Women's Blind Bogey competitions, and to the low gross man and low gross woman.

HOLE IN ONE CONTEST—Prizes will also be awarded for a hole in one competition at each course. The golfer nearest to the cup at the designated hole will receive a prize.
Commissioner Newbold Morris announces that copies of the 1963 edition of the Department of Parks Dance-Music-Drama brochure are exhausted. To meet the continuing demand for information about these special events in the parks, the department will make available multilith copies of the schedule for the balance of the season.

The Dance-Music-Drama brochure, which lists more than 600 special summer events in the New York City parks, was originally intended for distribution to news media as an aid in publicizing park recreation programs, to public and private information bureaus, to service organizations, and to business concerns having large employee groups. Despite this wide distribution, there has been a great demand from the public for this seasonal listing of park events.

This demand reflects the constantly increasing interest in cultural park programs. Although greater numbers of concerts, operatic performances, drama, and other special events have been provided in recent years, increased attendance at them is not due solely to greater availability of programs.

Seasonal attendance at these events has been increased by the greater variety of programs offered during the season and by scheduling events in local communities rather than only in the larger parks.

Enjoyment of one form of entertainment generates interest in other programs provided for the public. Park patrons who attend symphony orchestra concerts return on following evenings to hear band concerts, Shakespeare audiences at the Delacorte Theatre in Central Park are attracted to dance programs also offered at the outdoor theatre, and young people who attend the Name Band dances in the five boroughs find their summer pleasure increased by the many evenings of square dances scheduled in the parks.

Funds for these special events which make summer more enjoyable for both residents and visitors to the City are not available from the Park Department budget. They have been made possible by numerous public-spirited individuals and organizations who generously contribute funds, talents, time, and effort to make summer in New York stimulating, interesting, and entertaining.

Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that youngsters from six through fifteen years of age are invited to register now for the Fifth Annual Fishing Contest which begins on Tuesday, August 6th, at 11 A.M.

This event, which has such appeal to youth, will be held again at the 72nd Street Lake in Central Park. A park Department Recreation Leader, who is at the site of the contest daily, will register all contestants and issue "Junior Fisherman" registration cards in preparation for the opening day activities.

The Junior Fishing Contest will again be sponsored by the New York Lodge #1, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Fishing will continue daily from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M., terminating on Wednesday, August 21st, when the major awards will be presented.

Special prizes of fishing kits for the heaviest fish landed, the longest fish, the greatest number caught and the greatest aggregate length during the entire contest, as well as prizes for Opening and Closing Day, and special weekly awards will be presented to the successful anglers.

Youngsters interested in competing may secure entry blanks at any Park Department Playground, at the Lake at 72nd Street daily, or by writing to the Manhattan Recreation Office, Arsenal Building, 64th Street and Fifth Ave., New York 21, N.Y. Each competitor will receive a free Official Contest Registration Card when he appears at the Lake. This will make him eligible for any of the scores of prizes.

Commissioner Newbold Morris announces that another non-skid, soft surfacing material is being evaluated by the Department of Parks as a safety cushion beneath exercise equipment in the Central Park Playground at West 96th Street.

The dark green "Tartan" brand covering was installed Thursday, July 18th in the small children's play area. Technicians of the 3M Company, makers of the material, and park personnel co-operated in surfacing an 18 by 30 foot area under swings and a 15 by 20 foot area under slides. In addition, one wooden swing has been completely encapsulated in this material.

This new material, ½ inch thick, is permanently bonded to an asphalt sub-surface in one piece. Wet or dry, it remains non-skid and provides uniform resiliency regardless of temperature, according to the 3M Company. Except for thickness and color, this material is identical to the surfacing now used at several universities for athletic running tracks.

This is the sixth park area where safety surfacing materials are being tested for possible use in future playground installations.

Attached is a statement by John A. Mulcahy, Acting Commissioner of Parks regarding the survey by the Park Association on maintenance and design of park facilities.
STATEMENT BY JOHN A. MULCAHY
ACTING COMMISSIONER OF PARKS
REGARDING SURVEY BY PARK ASSOCIATION

The Department of Parks welcomes the attention being focused on park design, operation and maintenance by the Park Association's recent reports. The Association has brought about clearer recognition of the difficulties faced by the Department in developing and maintaining New York City's park system.

Although the survey was obviously calculated to elicit criticism rather than praise, the Association's report on design indicates that the people of New York have a real appreciation of our park system. It is generally agreed by professionals that New York has one of the most distinguished, varied and well-operated park systems in the world. Many years of thoughtful planning, hard work and struggle have gone into a continual effort to build and maintain what we now have and to meet the evergrowing demand for new park areas. The attention that the Park Association has directed to our problems will serve primarily to increase the interested and intelligent support of our citizens and through them, that of the various City agencies which control the budgets and the appropriations so vital to park operations, development and expansion.

It is especially satisfying to read the report's statement that, "...on most topics, at least half of those who completed the questionnaire said they were satisfied with the present design ingredients of sitting parks..." This is a good batting average. Quotations by individuals in the Park Association's survey indicate more interest in general expansion than in "modern" park design, the subject of considerable controversy and criticism of the Park Department in recent months. The Department is continuing its efforts to bring fresh, imaginative design to its parks and playgrounds. However, reconciling a prudent approach to the expenditure of public monies with experimentation presents many difficult problems that are not fully appreciated by most laymen.

It is also gratifying to note that many of the new facilities and types of equipment requested by New Yorkers are those which have been subject to study, testing and experimentation by the Department in recent years and which are scheduled for installation in new parks and playgrounds. It should be borne in mind that there is an inevitable time lag of two to three years between conception and final realization. Now in various stages of study, design or actual construction are: the use of more color in playgrounds; larger areas of planting; more varieties of trees and flowering trees; variation in the architectural style of park and playground structures; park shelters; variation in types of park benches; free-form play apparatus and the limitation, where possible, of the use of high fencing.

Many of the criticisms voiced by those approached in the survey were contradictory. On the one hand, the complaint is voiced that "...the parks are too overcrowded by oldsters..." while other respondents claim that "...too much of the monies... are expended for youthful beneficiaries...". Some ask for "...more and larger parks... while others ask for "...more small parks..." Some of those questioned were of the opinion that the parks had more than enough eating places and hoped for "...plain open space..."; others specifically demanded more soft-drink stands, coffee wagons and vending machines. While a number of those answering spoke up for contemporary design, "...more ornate design..." was suggested by many. "...Carl Schurz Park and John Finley Walk are models for future parks. Children and adults both seem to enjoy the park without interference..." as quoted in the design report contradicts the previously published opinion that "... the Park is a disgrace to the City."

It is surprising to note that the demands for specific types of park entertainment coincide with the programs presented by the Park Department for many years - band concerts, folk music and dancing, drama and recitations, patriotic observations and children's entertainments. Although the Park Department distributes each year some 8,000 free copies of its programs of entertainment and 15,000 booklets listing park facilities available to the public, it is obviously impossible to reach every citizen. The Department must depend on the press and radio for day-to-day publicizing of the many free entertainments offered in the City's parks.

No other city in the country, large or small, can remotely equal New York City's achievement over the past 30 years nor does any other city boast similar specific plans for park expansion. A few statistics are revealing: The Department of Parks now has under its jurisdiction over 36,000 acres or 17 per cent of the City's area (21,000 acres of this total have been added since 1933). In the past 30 years 725 modern playgrounds have been added to the 119 which existed previously, an increase of over six times.
Innumerable miles of park walks, for example some 65 miles of walks along the parkway system, and 50 miles of bicycle paths have been built: 164 baseball, 472 soft ball, 59 little league ball fields: 1,943 hand-ball courts: 459 tennis courts have been added to the system. 17.96 miles of beaches have been developed or re-developed and added to the park system. To accomplish this, the Department has used every known legal device and has invented many new ones in its efforts to expand park lands and facilities.

The Park Association report states that the Commissioner of Parks stopped the conduct of the survey on park property and thus blocked further enlargement of the survey. The conduct of the survey was in clear violation of Article III, Section 21A, Paragraph 2, Sub. d of the Park Department Rules and Regulations which for many years has protected park users from solicitation for any purpose. The motives of the Park Association were obviously praiseworthy, but such rules have the force of law and can not be arbitrarily administered. The Park Association is a private organization and permitting it to conduct a survey in the parks would automatically leave the way open for any other body of public-opinion analysts to turn the great number of park visitors into a captive source of profitable information. Surveys of the average man's opinion on government, foreign policy or the President's popularity would be followed in short order by questioning on the relative value of different brands of tooth paste.

There is one denominator common to almost all of the suggestions and criticisms contained in the Park Association report... the need for money, and lots of it. The Park Department would have few problems in satisfying requests and criticisms of even its most demanding users if it were not for budgetary limitations. This is, of course, no new problem in public administration. However, better maintenance could be provided by the Park Department if the filling of existing personnel vacancies were permitted. This crippling condition has been in effect for some time. The reaction to the Mayor's recent tax program should leave no doubt that there is little enthusiasm for increased taxes and that the financial requirements for education, public health, safety, streets, etc. must all be balanced and reconciled within the limits of sound and realistic fiscal policy.

The Commissioner of Parks, the departmental staff, their professional consultants and the responsible officers of the City Government constantly weigh the many and often conflicting demands of the people of New York concerning their parks, playgrounds and other recreational facilities, and will continue to do so. The Park Association survey has shown how conflicting these demands can be, but the Park Department will find it most useful in its continuing efforts to provide a modern, well-balanced, attractive and useful recreational system.
John A. Mulcahy, Acting Commissioner of Parks announces that the Roosevelt Park Golden Age Center, located in Roosevelt Park at Stanton and Forsyth Sts., in the Lower East Side, will celebrate its eighth anniversary on Thursday evening, May 23. The program will include entertainment furnished by the members with dancing and refreshments.

One of eight senior citizen groups operated by the Department of Parks of the City of New York, the Roosevelt Park Golden Age Center offers a well rounded program of arts and crafts, dancing, lectures, music and quiet games designed to help oldsters enjoy their leisure time.

This is the fourth entrance to Central Park to have its official name inscribed on the adjacent boundary wall.

The others are Inventors' Gate at 72 Street and Fifth Avenue, the 76 Street Gate at 76 Street and Fifth Avenue and the Mariners' Gate at Central Park West and 85 Street.

assist in the opening session at Central Park, starting 3:45 P.M.

Others who will assist include Frank Shields, another former U. S. Davis Cup captain; Mercer Beasley, noted veteran teacher; Bill Lufler, president of the Professional Lawn Tennis Association, and two metropolitan area college coaches, George Seewagen of St. John's and Charles Lundgren of Upsala.

Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces that the Douglaston Park Golf Course located on Commonwealth and Marathon Boulevards in Douglaston, Queens will be open for public usage on Saturday, April 27, 1963 at 6 a.m.

Formerly known as the North Hills Golf Club, title to the 104.6 acres was acquired by the City through the funds made available by the New York State Park Land Acquisition and Bond Act of 1960.

Three of the 18 holes are located on property owned by the Roman Catholic Diocese of Brooklyn. Under an agreement, the City will be permitted to make use of the 27 acres on which these three holes are located until December 31, 1963. This generous act will give us time to redesign the three new holes within the limits of the area owned by the City. The greens and the fairways have been top dressed, fertilized and seeded and the sporty layout is in excellent condition. Skinner Graham, formerly of Silver Lake Park Golf Course, has been selected as the golf professional.

The interior of the club house, built in striking Spanish architecture, has been completely refurbished. Lockers for 408 men and 144 women will be installed by May 6th.
The Douglaston Park Golf Course will make the 11th municipal links in operation in New York City's parks system and will help reduce the waiting time elsewhere for our public links golfers. Daily permits for lockers will be available at the club house after May 6th at a cost of 25¢. Season permits for lockers will be issued to golfers from the Queens office of the Parks Department in the Overlook in Kew Gardens, Forest Park, starting on Monday, May 6th at 9 a.m. at a cost of $5.00.

PROPOSED DEPARTMENT OF PARKS

RECREATION CENTER

NEW YORK BOULEVARD AT 134TH AVENUE
SUMMER — Swimming

WINTER — Ice Skating
February 18, 1963

Hon. Newbold Morris, Commissioner
Department of Parks
The Arsenal
64th Street and Fifth Avenue
New York 21, N. Y.

Dear Commissioner:

At the suggestion of Commissioner Robert Moses, Rochdale Village Inc. has retained us to make a preliminary plan for a recreation center. We will be paid $20,000, which should be deducted from any amount that we may be paid by the City Park Department for the general and complete contract plans. The estimated cost of development is $2,400,000.

The new Recreation Center proposed by the Department of Parks will occupy a site of eight and one-half acres along New York Boulevard. This is adjacent to future Junior High School No. 72. This Center, designed as a year-round, community-wide facility, will be for the use of all City residents.

Development of the recreation building is designed for multiple use as a dressing house for swimming, locker room facilities for ice skating, field house for track and field events. These would be under spectator bleachers. Provision for indoor athletic and community facilities will concentrate a needed recreational center on a comparatively small and easily maintained site.

In addition to the quarter mile track, swimming pool and ice skating rink, space has been provided for handball, volleyball, basketball, and tennis courts. Areas are reserved for small children and a neighborhood playground.

As you know, we have discussed these plans with Commissioner Moses, President Abraham E. Kazan of the United Housing Foundation and General President Jacob S. Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

We understand that you are requesting that the current capital budget be amended to start the design work.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

FOR RELEASE

Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks, announces the 12th annual Open House Week at St. Mary's Park Recreation Center, East 145th Street and St. Ann's Avenue, Bronx, beginning Sunday, March 31 and extending through Saturday, April 6. The Center will be open to visitors from 12 noon to 7 p.m. on Sunday, and from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m., thereafter.

St. Mary's Park Center, the first of the Park Department's large scale recreation centers, has proved of immense importance to the South Bronx Community. It had a registration of more than 8,455 members in 1962, ranging from pre-school children to Golden Agers.

Each day during Open House Week, one or more of the regular program activities will be highlighted. These will consist of swimming meets, novelty races, and water safety demonstrations in the swimming pool; gymnastics, dancing, basketball championships, tumbling and weight-lifting in the gymnasium; table games tournaments in the game room; crafts exhibitions and classes; and the showing of motion pictures.

"St. Mary's Nite" will be held on Friday, April 5, at 7:00 p.m. Members from all age groups will present a variety program of dance exhibitions, gymnastic routines on apparatus, swim meet, tumbling, boxing, exercise and springboard exhibitions; and a feature film "Forbidden Planet".

The public is cordially invited to visit St. Mary's Park Recreation Center during these "Open House" days. Admission will be free.
Attached is a copy of a letter from Commissioner Newbold Morris to State Senator Jerome Wilson in answer to his expressed misapprehensions about certain Department of Parks activities.

March 28, 1963
March 26, 1963

The Honorable Jerome Wilson
State Senate
Albany, New York

Dear Senator Wilson:

Apparently I must again call your attention to misinformation and erroneous statements attributed to you which have appeared in the public press in connection with the proposed conference scheduled for April 6, 1963.

Enumerated below are some of these allegations and the contrasting facts:

1. You are quoted as criticizing the Park Department for its involvement in non-park activities such as construction of parkways or a garage in connection with the Lincoln Center.

Facts: The Park Department and the State Department of Public Works do construct parkways and upon completion, the Park Department maintains them because they are under our jurisdiction, being elongated parks which contain bicycle paths, walks, playgrounds and planting as well as roadways for pleasure traffic. The Park Department constructs and operates parking facilities in connection with recreational facilities such as beaches, athletic areas, skating rinks and golf courses. Lincoln Center will be an outstanding recreational area as well as a cultural center. In accordance with a growing trend in other cities the roof of the Lincoln Center garage will be developed with Damrosch Park and public plazas, all mapped as park which the Park Department is required by the City Charter to develop and maintain.

2. You are quoted as stating that there has been "a lot of park acquisition," but many of these have been built by the Board of Education or in connection with housing developments and arterial construction, some of the latter being simply waste areas.
Facts: Jointly operated playgrounds are designed, constructed and maintained by the Park Department. Playgrounds constructed for the Park Department in connection with housing or arterial construction are designed and built according to our specifications and at our request. They are as valuable and heavily used as other park facilities and should not be depreciated because of the method of financing their construction. Even in your zeal for publicity in Manhattan, I assume you occasionally visit other boroughs and must have observed that the recreational areas along the parkways, and such park areas as those along the Expressway in Brooklyn Heights are far from being waste areas.

3. You are quoted as stating that the concrete surface under New York's play equipment makes for a high accident rate.

Facts: There is no justification for such a statement because it is not supported by fact. Concrete surface is not used under play equipment in the Park Department's playgrounds; it is used only for such facilities as handball and shuffleboard courts. There are minor accidents in connection with the use of our play equipment but our safety record is outstanding. The Park Department's playground equipment has been copied and used not only in nearby communities but throughout this country and in other parts of the world.

4. You are quoted as stating that in contrast to two other cities, New York's playground equipment is drab and obsolete and characterized by Army-type black and green paint.

Facts: You have been advised repeatedly that we have introduced in our playgrounds colored pavement, colored vinyl plastic fencing and bright colors on play slides, seesaws and other equipment. As for the equipment being drab and obsolete, the children who use it do not seem to consider it so and we have learned to have great respect for their opinions in such matters.

I suggest that you stop downgrading your city and its great park system which is the envied example for genuine experts in park design and operation in major cities throughout the free and civilized world. If that is too much to ask, I trust that in the future you will be accurate in your facts when addressing public meetings or issuing statements to the press.

Very sincerely yours,

/s/ WENBOLD MORRIS

Newbold Morris, Commissioner of Parks announces that the first skiing area in New York will be opened Thursday January 31, 1963 at 11:00 A.M. with ceremonies in Van Cortlandt Park, The Bronx.

Called the Van Cortlandt Ski Area, the new center opens up a popular recreation heretofore unavailable to thousands of people in Greater New York. It is designed for beginners and more experienced skiers, and is open days and evenings, with the use of snow-making equipment and floodlights.

The facilities include a training area, a slope for beginners, an intermediate slope, and a slope for more advanced skiers. Five rope tows have been installed to serve the slopes.

Commissioner Morris, a skiing enthusiast himself, said, "the new skiing area offers an opportunity for New Yorkers of all ages to participate in a sport which has rapidly increased in popularity throughout the nation."

The slopes are open to the public from noon to 10:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. on weekends and holidays. For use of ropes and tows, skiers will pay $2 on weekdays and $3 on weekends and holidays. Children fourteen years of age or under will pay $1 any day.
A rental service is provided with 1,000 pairs of skis, boots and poles for skiers who do not wish to bring their own equipment. For a $3 rental charge, skiers will be outfitted with a pair of skis, boots and poles for the entire day and evening.

Refreshment stands have been installed, along with a first aid station.

Instructors are operating a ski school which offers private and group lessons.

Located in the southern section of Van Cortlandt Park, the skiing area may be reached by subway, bus or automobile. It is a 12-minute walk from the 242nd Street and Broadway local train station of the Seventh Avenue-Broadway IRT Subway line. Existing parking facilities may be used at the golf house near the ski slopes.

The snow-making machine consists of a network of underground pipes, connected to compressors. The compressors force a mixture of water and air through the pipes to a battery of nozzles which distribute a good cover of snow to all slopes.

The Van Cortlandt Ski Area is expected to attract skiers from all five boroughs as well as the surrounding suburbs. To date, the nearest organized ski slopes are about forty-five miles from the city line. Among those expected to make use of the slopes are beginning and more experienced skiers, when they find out-of-town ski excursions inconvenient.

Skiing as a family pastime has gained a considerable following during the past decade, with an estimated 4,000,000 Americans now visiting the nation's ski resorts annually and thousands more going abroad on special group ski flights.
Metropolitan Ski Slopes, Inc., was favored to operate the Van Cortlandt facility under agreement with the Department of Parks. The company also operates the Piper Hill ski area in Piperville, Pa.

The projectors for the showing of the films and slides are an additional gift from Governor and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman who, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, donated the Children's Zoo to the City.

The Children's Zoo, located north of the Central Park Zoo, may be reached by the 64th or 67th Street entrances on Fifth Avenue. Admission is ten cents. Adults unaccompanied by children are admitted on Mondays only.
